

How to log in to the PMU Online Catalog for external users

Important: You can only login to the PMU Online Catalog if you have already registered with the library.

To order, reserve or renew items, you must first "Sign in" to the online catalog (top right)

If you do not already have a password, proceed as follows:

When you click on "Sign in", the following window opens:

Click on "Login for external users"

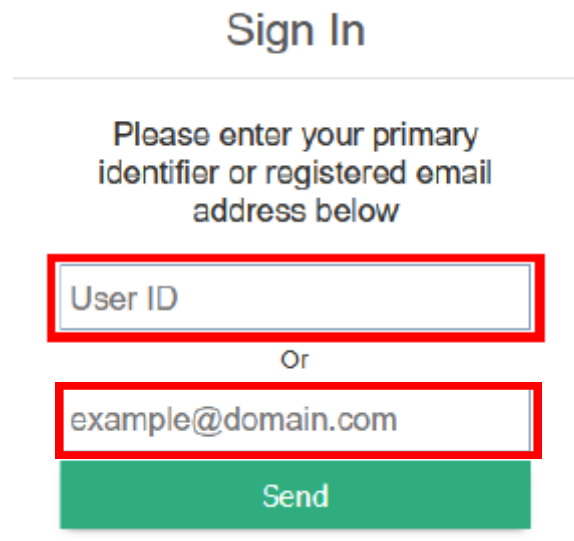

The following window opens:

A mobile-style login window with a back arrow in the top left. The title is "Login using:". Below the title are two input fields: "USER ID" and "PASSWORD". Below the "PASSWORD" field is a link that says "Click here to reset password" with an external link icon. At the bottom are two buttons: "CANCEL" and "LOGIN". The link is highlighted with a red rectangular border.

Now select "Click here to reset password".

This opens the following window:

A "Sign In" window with a horizontal line above the title. Below the title is the instruction: "Please enter your primary identifier or registered email address below". There are two input fields: the first is labeled "User ID" and the second contains the example email "example@domain.com". Both fields are highlighted with red rectangular borders. Below the second field is a green button labeled "Send".

Enter the 7-digit card number of your SALK staff card or the barcode of your PMU library card in the "User ID" field and click "Send".

[You may also use the email address you provided during registration].

You will now receive an email with a registration link at the email address the library has on file. Click on the link and create a password.
